

Hardware design is carried out in four phases,
Mathematical model.
Simulation and verification of algorithm.
Calibration of sensor.
Hardware Design.

Mathematical model

The mathematical model serves the most important role throughout the project, as it is intended to solve the issues

This model is further divided into two sub-parts,

Listener tracking model