High end audio systems provide a very high-quality sound and provides the user the feasibility to use them for multiple events. But even the best has some drawbacks.

- Complexity of Hardware, as per the research study we can observe the research is based on mono channel and not multi channel.

- Research suggests use of kinect for object tracking which have its own drawbacks.

- Complexity of Algorithm, to achieve the effect researchers suggested very complex algorithms regardless of room geometry.